Churchill On 'Overpowering Influence' Of Empire

Will Demand Axis Surrender To "Ounustice & Mercy"

PREDICTS HEAVY FIGHTING IN MEDITERRANEAN BEFORE AUTUMN

LONDON, June 30.

Mr. Winston Churchill receiving the Freedom of the City of London at the Guildhall to-day predicted "Heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall".

"We demand from the Nazis, Fascists and the Japanese unconditional surrender. Their will-power to resist must be completely broken and they must yield themselves absolutely to our justice and mercy".

Allied Shipping Strength

Mr. Churchill said that more than thirty U-boats had been destroyed in the Atlantic in May, while in June the United Nations' output of new shipping was seven to ten times greater than the losses from enemy action. See the middle of May, scarcely a single merchantship had been sunk in the whole of North Atlantic.

Referring to the bombing of the Ruhr he said: As this became longer and the United States Air Force becomes more numerous, there is no industrial or military target in Germany that will not receive the utmost application of the extermnating force."

"No Compromise"

Mr. Churchill then went on to speak, cheering crowds of city workers to the Guildhall today, after receive the Freedom of the City of London.

Speaking in the ancient Hall with its blackened walls a reminder of London's firaid of December, 1940, which destroyed its roof—Mr. Churchill said that he was deeply grateful for the kindness shown him not only today on this outstanding occasion but in the whole dischar of his responsibility. "It gives confidence to go on" he said.

"Of all the wars we have ever waged in the long century of our history there never has been one which more truly united the entire British people and British races throughout the world than this present fearful struggle. We were sure of our duty and we have discharged and will discharge it without swerving or slackening to the end. We seek no profit, we want no territory or aggrandisement, we exit no reward, we will accept no compromise. It is on that footing we wish to be judged first in our own consciences and afterwards by posterity."

WITHIN GOLDEN CIRCLE OF CROWN

After expressing his preference for the expression "the British Commonwealth and Empire" to describe "this unique association of races built up partly by conquest, largely by consent, but mostly unconsciously and without design within the all-embracing golden circle of the Crown", Mr. Churchill continued "It is overpowering influence and impulse that makes Canada, Auralia, New Zealand and South Africa to send their manhood across the ocean to fight or die."

ALL 'VOLUNTEERS' FROM INDIA.

In the vast subcontinent of India which we trust will presently find full satisfaction within the British commonwealth of nations, the magnificent many others thronged to the imperial standard. More than two million have joined the armed forces and have distinguished themselves in many cases during fiercest conflicts with the Germans, Italians and the Japanese.

All the great countries engaged in this war count their armies by the millions but the Indian army has the peculiar characteristic not found in the armies of Britain, the United States, Russia, France or in the armies of our foes in that it is entirely composed of volunteers. Not one has been conscripted or compelled.

The same thing is broadly true throughout the great Colonial Empire. Many scores of thousands of troops from immense tropical spaces or drawn from lonely islands nursed by the wave have come overseas.

Imperialists' "Greatest Work"

The ardour of the Colonial Empire to join this awful conflict and continue in high temper through its ups and downs is the first answer I would make to those ignorant envious voices who call into question the fatness of the work we are doing throughout the world and shall continue to do.

The time came when this loosely, variously knit world-spread association was confronted with the most searching test of all the mother country, the home of kingship, this famous island seemed to enter the very jaws of death and destruction. Against the triumphant might of Hitler, with a greedy Italian at his tail, we stood alone with resources so slender that we shudders to enumerate them even now. Then surely was the moment for the Empire to break up, for each of its widely dispersed communities to seek safety on the winning side, or those who thought themselves oppressed to throw off the yoke to make better terms be times with the conquering Nazi and Fascist power. Then was the time. But what happened in the dark and terrific but also glorious hour we received from all parts of His Majesty's Dominions from the greatest to the smallest, from the remotest to the nearest, from the most humble and the most simple, assurances that we would all go down or come through together. You will forgive me if on this occasion in the heart of mighty London, I rejoice the soundness of our institutions and proclaim by faith in our destiny."

On "Power Of U. S."

Turning his attention to the United States "whose power arouses no fear, whose pre-eminence excites no jealousy in British bosoms" Mr. Churchill said, upon the intimate alignment of policy of the United States and the British Commonwealth and the Empire depends more than upon any other factor the immediate future of the world. If they walk or if need be march together in harmony in accordance with the moral and political conceptions to which the English-speaking peoples have given birth and which have been frequently referred to in the Atlantic Charter, all will be well. If they fall apart and wonder astray from the wind of their destiny there is no end or measure to the miseries and confusion which would mark modern civilisation. This is no rhetorical extravagance. It is hard cold with truth. Yet there are many light wayward spirits in both countries who show themselves by word or action unmindful of this fundamental fact. It is a fact in no way derogatory to that mighty nation now fighting by our side or to any nation great or small making its way through the perils of the present age.

We nourish the warmest feelings of fellowship towards the valiant Russian people WITH WHOM WE HAVE MADE A TWENTY-YEARS TREATY OF FRIENDSHIP AND MUTUAL AID.

We foresee an expanding future to the long enduring republic of China. We look forward to a revival of the unity and true greatness of France. We have the loyal and faithful comradeship of all. Nevertheless the tremendous awe-inspiring fact stares the British and American democracies between the eyes, that acting together we can help all nations safely into the harbour and that if we divide, all will toss and drift for a long time on the dark stormy seas."

Will Go At Japs After Europe

Mr. Churchill described how the unflinching resistance of London to the formidable and prolonged assault stirred every generous heart in the United States and spoke of the time when "the foul Jap saw his chance to make his bid for Asiatic domination by striking his blow at Pearl Harbour".

"Since then we and the Americans have waged war sharing alike, taking rough with smooth, not as one people but certainly as though we were one army, one navy, one air force. Should Hitler's Germany and Mussolini's Italy collapse under the flail of Soviet Russia and not the inconsiderable exertions of the British and American armies in the Mediterranean and elsewhere and should the war industries of Germany be blasted out of existence by British and American air power, should this victory be achieved before Japan is laid low I stand here to tell you to-day. As I told the Congress of the United States in your name that every man, every ship and every aeroplane in the King's service that can be moved to the Pacific will be sent and there maintained in action by the people of British Commonwealth and the Empire in priorities for as many years as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit or bite the dust."

PROGRESS OF WAR.

Mr. Churchill turned for a "moment" to domestic affairs warmly praising "our slowly wrought British institutions which have proved themselves even better adapted to this crisis than any we have known in the past".

Referring to the progress of the war Mr. Churchill said: He then went on "The general progress of the war is satisfactory. Two great battles were won by the Allies. Everyone has heard of the battle in Tunisia when 350,000 Germans and Italians were made captive or slain and immense quantities of war material captured or destroyed. There was another victory no less notable the battle which was fought in May in the Atlantic against U-Boats. In May the German Admiralty made extreme exertions to prevent the movement to Great Britain of enormous convoys of food and materials. Long lines of U-Boats were spread to meet these convoys and fifteen or twenty U-Boats concentrated in the attack. To meet this the British, American and Canadian forces of the sea and air hurled their strength at the U-Boats. The fighting ended in a total defeat of the U-Boats' attack. More than thirty U-Boats were certainly destroyed in the month of May, floundering in many cases with their crew in the dark depths of the sea. Staggered by these deadly losses the U-Boats have recoiled to lick their wounds and mourn their dead.

BEST MONTH OF WAR.

As a result of the May victory and the message of the U-Boats we have had in June the best month we have ever known in the whole fortysix months of the war.

The prodigious ship-building exertions of the United States and the considerable contribution of Britain and Canada have produced an output of new ships somewhere between seven and ten times as much as our losses from enemy action in the month of June. Since the middle of May scarcely a single merchant ship has been sunk in the whole North Atlantic in June, although convoys are not being seriously attacked at the present time, the U-Boat losses have been most solid and encouraging.

During the summer our main attack has been upon the mainspring of the German war industry, the Ruhr, but as the nights become longer and as the United States Air Force becomes more numerous our strong arms will lengthen there is no industrial or military target in Germany that will not receive as we deem necessary the utmost application of the exterminating force.

NAZIS WILL BE DISILLUSIONED

The heavy defeats recently sustained by the U-Boats play their part in the general attack upon German morale. Apart from his mysterious promises of revenge, one of the hopes which Goebbels holds out to the German people is that though they suffer the extreme tribulation of air bombing the U-Boats are inflicting equal or even more deadly injuries upon British and American power to wage war. When that hope dies, and die it will, it will appear to the most dispassionate observer that a somewhat raw and bleak outlook is to open itself before Hitler's accomplices and dupes.

Turning to the Mediterranean and the Italians he said: "So far they have only been subjected to preliminary and discursive bombardments but they are already speculating feverishly where the blow will fall and what will be its weight. It is no part of our interest to relieve that anxiety. They may remember how they themselves struck at Tripoli and Abyssinia and at Albania and how they fell upon the Greeks and set out to conquer Egypt. I can do nothing to help them resolve their fears.

WORD OF CAUTION

But I have some words of caution to say to our own people. First of all great military operations are dominated by risks and turns of fortune. Any mood of overconfidence should be severely suppressed. All large amphibious operations, especially if they require the co-operation of two or more countries, require long months of organisation. I cannot go further today than say this—very probably there will be heavy fighting in the Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall. We, the United Nations, demand from the Nazis, Fascists and the Japanese unconditional surrender. By that we mean that their whole power to resist must be completely broken and they must yield themselves absolutely to our justice and mercy. It also means that we must take all the far sighted measures necessary to prevent the world being again convulsed, wrecked and blackened by their calculated blows and ferocious aggression.

It does not mean and never can mean that we are to stain our victorious arms by inhumanities or by mere lust of vengeance or that we do not plan a world in which all the branches of the human family may look forward to what the American Constitution finely calls "life, liberty and the pursuit of health".

Hard Process For Victory

After the Guildhall ceremony Mr. Churchill drove through cheering crowds to Mansion House where he was entertained to lunch by the Lord Mayor, Sir Samuel Joseph. Replying to the toast by Sir Samuel Joseph, Mr. Churchill said that he would strive to do his very best to give good service in the difficult times which lay ahead. He added, survival and victory are not within our grasp but hard and painful may be the process by which we shall arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. No one can tell whether the end will be long or short. All I can say is this, that Britain holds together as it retains her old traditions and steadiness.

Eden's Tip To Mussolini

How To Save Rome From Bombardment

WESTMINSTER, June 30.

The British Government has made no approach of any kind to the Italian Government regarding bombing of Rome, declared the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, in the House of Commons to-day, when asked if he had made such an approach, with a view to Rome being divested of military installations and becoming an open town.

Mr. Eden added amid cheers, "We do not intend to make one. I repeat, we would not hesitate to bomb Rome to the best of our ability, and as heavily as possible, if the course of war should render such action convenient and helpful."

Asked whether he did not think it desirable to place the responsibility for bombing war objectives in and around Rome on Signor Mussolini for not proclaiming it an open city, Mr. Eden replied "I think the responsibility is clear enough. No one invited Mussolini to attack France and no one invited him to send his bombers against London." (cheers).

In reply to a further question, Mr. Eden said I think it would be in the interests of humanity, if Mussolini was to realise that the best thing he can do for his country is to accept the unconditional terms offered to him." (cheers).—Reuter.

Field-Marshal May Be India's Ataturk Says Turkish Press

(From A Special Correspondent)

LONDON, June 30.

It is learned that Field-Marshal Wavell, Viceroy-designate of India, met informally influential Indian Muslims staying in London including supporters of Pakistan and Sir Hasan Suhrawardy.

TO BE INDIA'S ATATURK

According to reports received here the Turkish Press has welcomed the appointment of Field-Marshal Wavell as Viceroy of India and suggested that the solution of the Indian tangles lies not with fanatic visionaries, nor with obstructive nationalists, but with men of goodwill bent upon evolving a federal form of Government. It further suggests that the Field-Marshal might prove to be India's Ataturk or Ineunu.

Govt. To Requisition Fallow Lands

In furtherance of the "Grow More Food" Campaign, the Government of Bombay has decided to requisition fallow lands, if the owners do not cultivate the lands themselves or by tenants.

The Provincial Rural Development Board, at its meeting in March, recommended that cultivable land which is left uncultivated should either be compulsorily released for cultivation or that a special tax should be imposed upon it. A survey of typical villages in Thana, Poona and Ahmednagar districts revealed that nearly 20 per cent of the total area reported under fallow remained uncultivated on account of disputes among rival claimants and negligence or indifference on the part of owners, and also that the system of rotational fallow in Thana, for instance, is uneconomic. It is not unlikely that similar conditions exist in other districts also.

In order to increase food production to the fullest extent possible, Collectors will consider applications for the cultivation of fallow areas in private occupancy for growing food crops, on the same lines as applications for the grant of Government waste land for cultivation of food crops. They will requisition fallow lands in private occupancy required for cultivation under the Defence of India Rules, if the owners do not cultivate themselves or by tenants, and will give them out for cultivation on rent free leases for the duration of the war and six months afterwards.

U. P. Congress Leader's Move To End Deadlock

EX-PARLIAMENTARY SECRETARY'S PLEA TO A. I. C. C. MEMBERS TO SUSPEND DECISION OF AUGUST 8

LUCKNOW, June 30.

A proposal for resolving the political deadlock is being sponsored by a group of Congressmen in U. P. and support is being canvassed for the same among such members of the All-India Congress Committee as are out of jail.

Mr. Gopinath Srivastava, former Parliamentary Secretary and member of the All-India Congress Committee, recently released from prison, who is prominently associated with the move in an explanatory statement says:

"The charge of Congress responsibility for the acts of violence and sabotage during August last and following months have been dealt with by Mahatma Gandhi himself in his published correspondence with H. E. the Viceroy in the course of which His Excellency has at one place observed: "I am glad to read of your (Gandhiji) unequivocal condemnation of violence."

DEMAND FOR TRIBUNAL.

The Government view, as expressed to this day, however, remains that these unfortunate acts were a direct result of the resolution passed by the All-India Congress Committee at its meeting held at Bombay in August last.

There has been again a non-official demand by a group of highly respected Indian leaders headed by Sir T. B. Sapru for an enquiry into the matter by an impartial tribunal. Were Congress leaders free they would have surely endorsed this demand. But the Government while not agreeing to the appointment of such a tribunal, continue to harp on the August resolution and it appears to have come in as a handy excuse to it for not only preventing any commitment but an indefinite continuation of the political deadlock.

"Coming to the much-referred-to August resolution, it demanded the setting up of a composite Provisional Government at the Centre and referring to the task before it stated "its primary function must be to defend India and resist aggression with all the armed as well as non-violent forces at its command, together with the Allied powers."

MOVEMENT NOT STARTED.

In case of a failure on the part of the British Government to implement the demand it resolved upon "the starting of a mass struggle on non-violent lines under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi" and in case of any interference with his leadership expected every individual participating in the movement "to function for himself or herself within the four corners of the general instructions."

We further find in the course of the Linlithgow-Gandhi correspondence, Gandhiji's definite statement to the effect that "even that Civil Disobedience was not started before knowing the results of the meeting for which I (Gandhiji) was to seek from you (Viceroy) an appointment."

It will, therefore, not be incorrect to state that the movement has not even been started unless it is contended that in the event of Gandhiji's arrest the resolution left the discretion to the persons participating in the movement.

It may be noted further that Gandhiji's request for facilities to review the situation together with the members of the Congress Working Committee even behind prison bars, was also refused by the Government. This is the situation in a nutshell.

A.-I. C. C.'S TASK.

"We hold that in the enforced absence of Gandhiji the power of reviewing the situation vests with the A.-I. C. C. and in view of the said resolution being used as an excuse by the Government for an indefinite continuation of the deadlock, we would suggest that such members of the A.-I. C. C. as are out and we believe they exceed the number required for constituting quorum, are in their collective capacity constitutionally competent and should in view of the present situation in the country, suspend the resolution., till such a time as the A.-I. C. C. can meet formally and regularly and review the situation in the light of past events and present needs."—A. P.

Release Gandhiji

TIRUPATTUR, June 29.

At a meeting of Europeans and Indians at the Christukula Ashram, Tirupattur on Monday to discuss the present political situation it was decided that "public opinion should be organised to press for an early solution of the almost year-long deadlock". The meeting strongly felt the need "of contact between the leaders of the Non-Party Conference and Mahatma Gandhi in order that his present views of the situation may be ascertained and conveyed personally to the Viceroy.

Among those present were the Rev. R. R. Keithan of Bangalore Miss Gladys Owen of Lucknow, Rev. W. Q. Lash of Poona and Dr. E. Forrester Paton, who presided.

Three Advisory Boards For Sultan Ahmed

NEW DELHI, June 30.

Plans are expected to be announced soon in pursuance of the decision, to which Sir Sultan Ahmed, Information Member, referred in his statement for the Press immediately after taking over the new portfolio, to associate public opinion with his Department and bring about closer contact between the Government and the Press.

It is learned that two non-official Advisory Boards will keep the member in contact with the current of public Opinion. One of the Boards is to consist of Press correspondents Indian and foreign—working at the Government of India Headquarters, and is to meet twice a month or oftener if necessary. The other is a Publicity Advisory Board consisting of editors of newspapers, members of the Central Legislature and Provincial representatives and is to meet at least twice a year. An effort will be made to provide representation on this Board for editors of Indian language newspapers. Sir Sultan Ahmed will be chairman of both Boards.

The Information Member will also have a third Board comprising heads of Departments in the portfolio, which will meet once a week to coordinate and correlate policy and programme.

Sir Sultan Ahmed returned to Delhi this morning from Simla.—A. P.

CLOTH CONTROL SCHEME

Inaugurating the Cotton Textile Board at the Secretariat on Monday, Mr. M. S. A. Hydari, Secretary to the Industries Department, Government of India, said that the common objectives of Government and the Industry for the alleviation of the present difficulties would not be achieved without sacrifice, and it was on the industry that part of the sacrifice must inevitably fall. But, he added, if the industry took a long view of the future, no one could doubt that the sacrifice now demanded would be repaid and many times over repaid, by the goodwill created towards the industry among the people of this country. We must point out, however, that the cloth control problem is a business proposition, that for its continued success the various interests concerned should be legitimately safeguarded and that whatever sacrifice is found necessary should be equitably spread over, care being taken that the poor consumer and the cotton grower are duly protected.

As a result of the cotton cloth and yarn control order, published on 17th last, prices of cloth are understood to have fallen 35 to 50 per cent and it is reported that many Piecegoods Associations suspended business for a few days to check violent falls in prices and that the traders of Amritsar alone suffered a loss of Rs. 5 crores owing to sudden falls. It is also announced that all the trade interests concerned will meet in conference in Bombay during the week-end to consider the Control Order. To some extent the fall in prices is due to excessive hoarding and Government's order that manufacturers and dealers must dispose of their stocks before October 31. Considering the unconscionable heights which the prices of cloth had reached, the fall cannot be said to be excessive. Nor is it impossible to clear the stocks of such a necessity of life like cloth by the end of October, considering that demand rises as fast as prices show any decline. However, if any serious difficulties are experienced in disposing of the entire old stock by the prescribed date, some days of grace may well be given, without prejudice to the scheme as a whole.

It must be realised, however, that the success of the scheme depends less on forced sales or fixing of maximum prices than on speeding up production and stopping exports. The plans to achieve the former objective have yet to be completed and tried. As regards exports, Mr. Krishnaraj M. D. Thakersey, Chairman of the Textile Control Board, said at the first meeting of the Board: "Efforts would have to be made by this Board to see that exports may be so reduced as to make the largest quantity available for consumption in the country itself." It appears from this that the exports have not yet ceased and that the efforts to be made are only to reduce them. One can only hope that the sharp and sudden falls in prices, caused by the control scheme, will not tempt Government to buy and export large quantities of cloth. Will they be so good as to publish from time to time the quantities of cloth exported by them and by the ubiquitous U. K. C. C.?

Jap Anxiety

Another Japanese raid on Darwin has been effectively defeated by Allied Spitfires, which, for the loss of one fighter, shot down two Zeros and probably destroyed two bombers and two fighters. The success of the Spitfires once again over Darwin adds further emphasis to the suggestion that Jap air strength is deteriorating fast in the South Pacific area. Nor are the Japs faring any better in the far north. They have not reacted even in the air to their defeat on Attu. On the contrary, the Americans have been aggressively proving their superiority on Kiska and the waters around it. For the past few days U.S. aircraft have been particularly active over Kiska which has led some observers to look for an American invasion of this Jap base in the Aleutians. Kiska is well fortified and well garrisoned. And the grim battle to death which the much smaller Jap garrison on the weakly protected Attu Island has given leaves no doubt that the conquest of Kiska will be a hard and fiercely fought affair.

But the Americans possess the resources and the strength for the task and the recapture of Kiska is otherwise overdue, too. Let us, therefore, hope the observers are right. Meanwhile, it is extremely interesting to note that the Japanese leaders themselves are now so anxious about their position in the Pacific that they are actually confessing their anxiety to their people. A recent broadcast by the spokesman of the Tokyo War Office admitting growing Anglo-American strength not only referred to the loss of valuable bases—presumably Buna, Guadalcanar and Attu—but also warned the people of Japan to expect further moves by the enemy and more disappointments. This is significant.

His Usual Game

In artful dodging and the art of suppressio veri and suggestio falsi Mr. Amery is hard to beat. In reply to Mr. Sorensen's question in the Commons expressing surprise at the lack of publicity given to Gandhiji's letter to Government condemning violence Mr. Amery dodged the main point and dilated on minor points like a slip in referring to the date and address of the letter. And with regard to violence he only said Gandhiji "did not categorically condemn acts of violence." As a matter of fact Gandhiji had said in the letter that he was as ready as ever to proclaim from the house-top his uncompromising adhesion to non-violence. He also deplored the violence raging in the country but he would not hold Congress responsible for it nor would he say anything suggesting such responsibility. He held Government's "leonine violence" responsible for the disturbances in the country. After Gandhiji's letter was published in February, 1943, it did much to check violence. It might have helped non-violence a great deal more if it had been published immediately after it was received by Government, that is, in September, 1942. Why was it not published then or in the notorious pamphlet on Congress Responsibility?

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Another U. S. Crisis?

The Roosevelt administration has received another blow dealt to it this time from inside. Two members of the Administration, Vice-President Wallace and Mr. Jesse Jones, have brought out unexpected dirty linen and washed it before an astounded public. The rights and wrongs of the controversy between the two members of the Cabinet are not yet known and they are in any case not of much serious interest in themselves for the world. But what certainly is a matter of world-wide concern is the long-range effect of such quarrels. If internal disruption has begun in this fashion now, what would happen at the Presidential election in 1944? The danger of America returning to reactionary near isolationist Republicanism is growing very serious, indeed.

Riots In Greece

How pathetically tired Axis-occupied countries have become of their masters is illustrated by an American report from Ankara that serious riots broke out in the streets of Athens, Salonika, Larissa and Valo following American air raids during the past week. The Greeks, having suffered some of the worst miseries of Nazi Fascist occupation, have grown desperate in the eagerness for deliverance. So that even ordinary air raids constitute for them the promise of immediate freedom. And they let their feelings burst into public demonstration. It is only to be hoped that they are freed soon.

Jinnah's Views On Ministry-Making In Bihar

PATNA, June 30.

It is reliably understood that an important communication has been received from Mr. Jinnah in connection with the recent efforts to form a Ministry in Bihar.

Before giving the necessary permission to the Muslim League Party in the Bihar Legislative Assembly to participate in the formation of the Ministry, Mr. Jinnah is understood to have wanted to know the Coalition Party's actual strength and its influence regarding the provincial matters. The League President insists that before the League Party joins the Ministry it must have the definite assurance that the legitimate claims of the Mussalmans are accepted by the Coalition Party. Mr. Jinnah, it is learnt, would like to be satisfied that the Hindu masses of the Province do not oppose the right claims of the Mussalmans.

The President of the League is adamant on the point that the Provincial League should on no account be allowed to coalesce with any party in the Bihar Legislature wherein there is Muslim element or whose leader may happen to be a Mussalman.—U. P.

But before he was set at liberty, the Provincial Government launched a prosecution against him in the court of a First Class Magistrate of Jubbulpore. He was released on bail for Rs. 3,000 on May 3.

The charge against Mr. Narad was that he intentionally circulated false and prejudicial reports, with a view to cause fear and alarm in the public, to prejudice public safety and the efficient prosecution of the War and the defence of British India. Reserve Bank Dividends

Ordinance Limits Payment To Shareholders

NEW DELHI, June 30.

The Government of India have to-day issued an ordinance temporarily limiting the rate at which dividend on the share capital of the Reserve Bank of India may be paid by the bank to shareholders, states a press communique.

As a result of the enormous war expenditure in India by the Allied Governments, including the Government of India, an abnormal expansion of the currency has taken place, and since the profits of the Reserve Bank consist mainly of interest on securities held by backing to the currency, these profits have swollen very abruptly.

The distribution of the bank's profits between Government and shareholders is regulated by Section 47 and the Fourth Schedule of the Reserve Bank Act and the normal operation of these provisions would result in an abrupt increase in the rate of dividend payable to shareholders. The Government believe that a stabilisation of dividends is in the bank's own interest and will be welcome to the shareholders, as it will discourage undesirable speculation in the bank's shares. With this in mind and also the reason for such large profits, the Government have limited the dividend payable to a maximum of four per cent. for so long as the ordinance remains in force, a figure, moreover, which Government regard as eminently reasonable in the light of their anti-inflationary policy.

The incidental gain to Government is likely to be only a few lakhs, and in no way influenced Government in coming to this decision.—A. P.

Shamdasani's Complaint Dismissed

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

The protracted trial against the Central Bank of India, its Chairman, the Directors of the Bank, Manager and Sub-Manager, Accountants and Auditors, came to an end to-day when Mr. V. K. Muranjan, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon Court, dismissed the complaint filed by Mr. P. D. Shamdasani, alleging that by issuing, circularising and publishing the Bank's Balance-Sheet as at 31-12-39 and Profit and Loss Account for 31-12-39, the suspects had contravened the provisions of the Indian Companies' Act.

Among the many departures alleged to have been made by the accused, were, that the Balance-Sheet was not signed by the Manager and three Directors; the Balance-Sheet did not contain a summary of all the assets and the liabilities as at 31-12-39; the Directors' original report was not signed by the Chairman of the Board of Directors and that the Reserve Fund not shown separately but was lumped together with the contingency fund.

The Magistrate, in the course of his judgment, observed that generally speaking, the Police Court was not the proper forum to fight out disputed questions of finance in big companies and banks.

With regard to the allegation of grouping together the items of current account, fixed deposit, cash certificates, etc., the Magistrate said that, a "very unpathetic critic", who was alert to find fault, where existed any, might find items unsatisfactorily gr but, in his opinion, no bu man would complain about The Magistrate acquitted accused.

Mr. Shamdasani requeste Court for a certified copy final orders.

WAVELL MUST MAKE NEW APPROACH, SAYS P. N. SAPRU

SIMLA, June 30.

A plea for political conciliation a for a fresh general election to Central and Provincial Legislatu is made by Mr. P. N. Sapru, Mem of the Council of State, in a stat ment to the "United Press".

He says: "Field-Marshal Wa has it within his power to transfo the entire Indian scene. He has opportunity to prove that he is only one of the greatest generals modern times, but also a statesm of liberal instincts, vision and imagination. He can do this by revising the policy of his predecessor. He either himself ought to get into to with Mahatma Gandhi or allow ot eminent leaders to ascertain the vi of Gandhiji who should be permitt to consult his Working Commit so that he and the Congress may revise their policy as laid down in August resolution.

"In fact, I think, it would facilitate discussions if they are relea unconditionally for this purpose I am sure a step of this nature wo not be regarded as a weakness on part of Government.

"Other steps that Field-Mar Wavell should take is to clarify Independence issue by making clear that India will have indedence such as Canada, Australia for the matter of that, Great Bri has, immediately after the war. question of the form of the const tion-making body should be tacled immediately, and for this purpose Indian political parties should the assistance of eminent Americ Chinese and Indian jurists.

Tenants Evicted Under Police Supervision

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

Pathetic scenes were witnessed at Good Chambers, Navalkarwadi, Dadar, this morning when the remaining tenants of the building who had not so far vacated were evicted by the officers of the New Dadar Police Station.

Most of the tenants who had received the Police Commissioner's notice under the Defence of India Rules were shifted to the De Lisle Road Chawls provided for them by Government.

Inspector Dongre with some of constables went from flat to flat and told those tenants who did not vacate that they would have to clear out as soon as police lorries came there to remove their kit.

An hour later three police lorries arrived at the place. Along with them came Inspector Dongre Deputy Inspector Kamath and a number of policemen.

They walked into every room and told the tenants that they would have to hurry up.

The majority of the tenants yielded to these orders but there were a few who remained adamant and refused to budge.

By the afternoon with the exception of the six tenants who refused to be shunted, all the rest had cleared.

Industrial And Prudential Assurance Co.'s Progress

Sir Chimanlal On "Further Increase In New Business This Year"

Addressing the 29th Annual General Meeting of the Industrial and Prudential Assurance Company on Tuesday, Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, the Chairman said:

Gentlemen,

In proposing the adoption of the Audited Accounts and Balance Sheet I would like to make a few remarks.

Last year when we met we were under the threatening shadow of the war that had come to the very doors of India. Burma had then been occupied by the enemy and we had amongst us Indian evacuees from Burma with their tales of misery and difficulties. India itself had then the experience of some bombing from the enemy and the East and the South of India were feeling very anxious. The position, however has now changed the tide of war has turned and India is not in immediate danger. Not only that but confidence has returned and people have been attending normally to their business inspite of the additional difficulties due to the circumstances created by the war. This is reflected in the amount of New Business completed by this Company during the last year which stands at 3,017 policies assuring the sum of Rs. 98,86,116|- as against Rs. 90,59,158 of the last year. This is a satisfactory increase. If the new business which is being received during the current year were an indication of the possible results during the remainder of the year I may say that there will be a substantial further increase in new business this year over the last. Our premium income for year under report is about Rs. 36,75,000 and our income from interest, dividents and rents is Rs. 6,48,000|- in round figures. Both these figures show an advance over previous year. Our claim ratio continues to be favourable and is well within the provision made in our rates. Our expense ratio also continues to be low in spite of the increasing costs of materials required by us and the dearness allowance paid to our staff. Our quinquennium Valuation period ended on 31st December, 1942. All the material necessary for the purpose has been handed over to the Actuary who is busy preparing the valuation. We will know the results in a couple of months and the same will then be placed before you.

WANTED LARGER SCOPE FOR INVESTMENT

I dwelt upon the question of the investments of Life Insurance Companies in my speech last year, and informed you that it was getting more and more difficult to obtain satisfactory yields on our investments. Government, it appears is not prepared to amend the Insurance Act, so as to permit a larger scope in the investments of life funds and the apprehensions about the yield being reduced are coming true. I still hope that Government would reconsider the position and reduce the percentage of statutory investments for Indian Life offices. It was suggested by the Commerce Member in one of his speeches at a meeting of the Insurance Advisory Committee that Life Insurance Companies should revise their rates of premiums and increase them to counterbalance the decrease in the yield on investments. Your Directors in consultation with Consulting Actuary of the Company have revised the rates of premium during the Current Year, and I am glad to say that this step has had no adverse effect on the new business. Your Directors also under the new powers given to them under the Articles to invest the funds of the Company other than those required under the Act to be kept in Government and Approved securities in other securities have done so in respect of a part of such extra funds, consistently with the safety of our Capital. The result is that we have been getting a higher yield on this portion of our investments. I need not assure you that the Directors are taking the utmost care in the selection of these investments, which so far show an appreciation over their cost-price. It is, however, difficult to find good mortgages with a reasonable rate of interest.

The building of the Company continues to be fully occupied all through. It is a standing monument to the soundness of our Company.

INCREASED TAX BURDEN

While on the subject of our investments and the yield that we get, I am reminded of a very great hardship from which Life Insurance Companies in India have to suffer. This hardship is in the form of increased Surcharges on Income Tax and the increased rate of Super Tax for Limited Companies. In England a distinction has been made between Life Assurance Companies and other types of limited companies in levying the income tax and surcharges during the war. The Life Insurance Companies have entered into long term contracts with their policyholders. The premiums fixed under the policies cannot be altered. These premiums were based upon the calculation of a particular rate of interest yield from which a particular rate of income tax would be deducted. But now the income tax and the super tax have been increased considerably since the war began and these to-day stand at 74 pies in a Rupee as against 42 pies in a Rupee in 1938|40. This works very unfairly in the case of Life Insurance Companies and is bound to affect very adversely the working of Life Insurance Companies in India. It has been urged upon the Government to give consideration to this aspect and to reduce the Surcharges and the Super Tax in case of Life Insurance Companies to a very low figure. I am sure if this request from the Indian Life Offices is supported by the general public, Government will give relief to the Life Offices and thereby it will be possible for the varibus Life Insurance Companies in India to tide over the present difficult times. In England a maximum rate of income tax for Life Assurance Companies has been fixed at Sh. 7.6d. in a pound as against Sh. 10 for other limited companies. In India also not only the present rate of surcharges and super-tax should be reduced but the Government should declare a maximum rate of income tax, surcharges and super-tax applicable to Life Assurance Companies.

In conclusion I congratulate the field force as well as the Head Office staff for the efficient manner in which they are performing their duties. They have remained loyal to the Company keeping before them the ideal of "service." The Indian Public also is to be congratulated for the way they have taken to Indian offices in preference to non-Indian ones and I assure them that they will have no reason to repent their selection.

I now move the resolution for the adoption of audited Balance Sheet and Revenue Account for the year ending 31st December 1942.

The Directors report and the audited Balance Sheet of the year ending 31-12-42 were adopted.

A Dividend of 12½% was declared.

The retiring Directors Messrs. Mangaldas B. Mehta, and Calian D. Vaidya were duly elected.

HOMŒOPATHIC MEDICINES

PRICE INCREASED

COMMON POTENCIES UP TO 200TH INCREASED TO 2 ANNAS PER DRAM and 7 PICE PER ½ DRAM

New Price will take effect from 6th July, 1943.

The war is on us with its train of difficulties and miseries. Prices of all commodities have abnormally soared up. In spite of the very high prices of all articles of our line and much higher establishment cost, we so long kept down the price to pre-war level with great efforts, with a view to serving our countrymen. But things have come to such a pass that it is no longer possible to maintain the original rate. We have therefore been most reluctantly compelled to increase the price a little.

We take this opportunity to inform our customers and well-wishers that we were the pioneers in this part of the country to introduce genuine medicines at very cheap rates for the benefit of the suffering public. We had to face bitter criticism and proceed against heavy odds, as all pioneers have got to do. But by and by almost all of our critics turned into followers and accepted our principle. Thus Homoeopathy was carried to every home, from the rich palace to the humble cottage. Now the war condition has compelled us to increase the price and it is not without the greatest pain that we do it. But let us assure all that we shall again reduce the price as soon as conditions permit. Service to people is our first duty.

We must thank our customers for their past support and hope to receive their patronage in future also. We assure them of our sincere endeavour to serve them in the best possible manner though times are most difficult. Considering irregular supply and unsatisfactory stock position they are requested to be most economic in their use of medicines and thus co-operate with us in keeping up a constant supply.
